the 1990s, the number of people with a mental health problem has increased by 50% (Mental Health Foundation 1999). The prevalence of mental health problems has increased in the general population, and the incidence of mental health problems has increased in the prison population.

There is a growing awareness of the need to address the mental health needs of prisoners. The Department of Health (2000) has published a strategy for mental health services, which includes a commitment to improve the mental health of prisoners. ## Celebrate

Celebrate July

Betsy Ross' actual contributions to the American Revolution may have been in dispute, but, nevertheless, she was sewing "Old Glory" in most of the Fourth of July parades in the bicentennial year.

Calumet's pom pon squad and band helped to spur the bicentennial "mood" by participating in the Fourth of July parade in Black Oak. "1776," a musical film depicting America's forefathers as "song and dance" men, was presented to CHS students at Cinema I and II as a part of the bicentennial celebration.

The 1975 Fourth of July celebration was merely a rehearsal for 1976.

An American flag, waved, means a penny earned!

Viewing the nation's bicentennial in terms of dollar signs, business and industry undertook a concerted effort in 1976 to reduce Americans to "poor Richards," "poor Janes," "poor Johns" and, in general, to empty the public's pockets in the name of the red, white, and blue.

Oh, forgive them Ben Franklin, for they know not what they do. Or do they?

From "By the dawn's early light" to the sun slowly sinking in the West, American business adopted the stars and stripes to fit any possible commodity in '76. We saw red, white and blue dresses, pocket books, electric trains, sleeping bags, etc., etc., etc. Betsy Ross might have dropped a stitch if she had known that one day her pattern would adorn a casket.

The flag business was never better than in 1976. American industry had difficulty keeping pace with consumer demands. "Old Glory" was even displayed in the tradition of the 1970's: on the automobile bumper sticker. Only during '76, Americans were loving it, not leaving it. And business was not just loving it, but cramming it down everyone's throat.

Once upon a time, 56 men sat down and listed their grievances and declared themselves independent of the British Empire. Little did they know that 200 years later, American business would declare themselves rich in celebration of their founding father's historical decision.

Patches relating to the 200th anniversary were available for application to jeans and jackets.

Red, green lights twinkle As students celebrate

Calumet students trugged through snow and sub-zero temperatures, amid glittering lights and department store crowds, in an attempt to recapture some of the childhood innocence of Christmas.

They visited Santa's knee and reminisced about earlier days when they exhibited blind faith in a kindly, old gentleman with a billowy, white beard.

It is, perhaps, amazing that with the gawdy, commercialized aspects of Christmas, people have managed to maintain some of their traditional feelings regarding this holiday season. Students took a traditional approach by trimming their trees with "homemade" ornaments. Self-expression in tree trimming, long ago, was an economic necessity. Today, these delicate, hand-constructed ornaments are considered "chic."

But alas, the age of innocence is impossible to recapture. One cannot return to the days when visiting Saint Nick was an exciting and emotional experience. Or when on Christmas Eve, while tucked in bed, one totally believed it possible to hear the pawing of the reindeer's hoofs and the thud of Santa's boots.

Therefore, perhaps, younger brothers and sisters or nieces and nephews are blessings in disguise. For although they are a "pain" 364 days out of the year, it is through their eyes that we rekindle memories of the true "experience" of Christmas.

For, afterall, Christmas is a celebration for children.

"Good night Elizabeth."

"Good night Mary Ellen."

"Good night John-Boy."

CHS 'tricks'

Trick or Treators haunted the halls on Wednesday, October 29 during Calumet's Spirit Week. The week's festivities were held from October 27 to 31, as a prelude to the Calumet-Lowell football game.

Mountain "folk" invaded CHS halls during the week, as students dressed like their "country cousins." Another day made ghost, goblins, witches and other traditional trick-or-treat costumes a part of the week's activities.

Students with black garmets and veils, sobbed into "hankies" and paraded the corpse of their Homecoming opponent, the Lowell Red Devils, during "Mourning Day."

Other costume days selected by the Student Council were "Backward Day" and "Warrior Day."

Calumet post victory On new home gridiron

Calumet came home in 1975. The Warriors returned to their recently completed home turf for the annual Homecoming game and festivities on Friday, October 31.

The Warriors posted a victory as they put the heat on the Lowell Red Devils.

Homecoming queen Jeanette Harris, senior, was crowned at half-time ceremonies. Court members include seniors Rose King, Ann Ragsdale and Jan Ragsdale.

The title of Mr. Football was awarded to Rabon Hinkle, senior. The gridiron award was presented at the dance following the game. The dance was held in the girls gymnasium and "Bent" an area band, played for the annual activity.

Spirit week's activities Include unusual attire for CHS'ers

While sporting unusual dress for Spirit Week, CHS'ers participated in various assemblies and contests sponsored by the Student Council during the week of October 26 to 31.

Incorporating the Halloween theme into the week's activities, the council held a "Costume Contest" and "Pumpkin Carving" competition on Wednesday. Pat Mauger, freshman, carved out a victory by student response to his Jack-O-Lantern.

The annual powder puff game was held on Thursday on Calumet's new gridiron. The Junior-Freshman squad proved victorious over the Senior-Sophomore team by posting a final score of 27-20.

A baby picture contest, comprised of football players, was also part of the CHS council's Spirit activities. Students voted Tim Rutledge, junior, the cutest face.

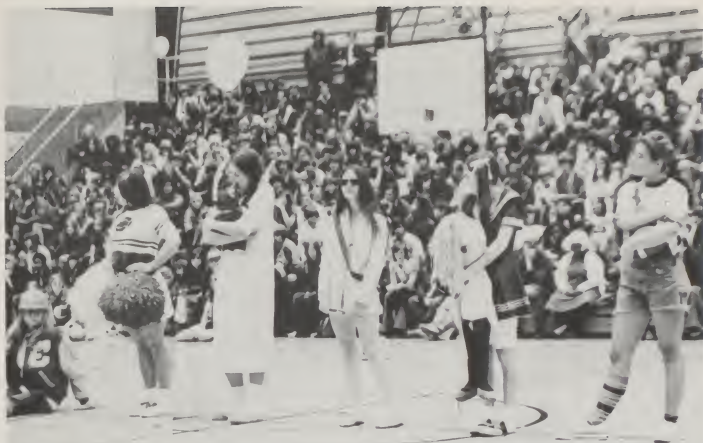

Other activities included a parade, bonfire and pep assemblies during the week, all of which added to school spirit.

Guests attend Winter Fantasy

Clara Seberger, senior, was crowned 1975 GAA Ball Queen on December 20. Kathi Chakos, 1975 graduate and last year's queen, participated in the ceremony.

The annual event sponsored by the Girls Athletic Association was held from 8 p.m. to 11:30 p.m.

A Christmas sleigh and holiday decorations provided the background for, "Snow Flake Fantasy."

The girls gymnasium was transferred into a winter setting by members of the organization and Mrs. Norma Hyndman, club sponsor.

At Carpet Day

Indiana University Northwest in Gary was the gathering place for the 200 Calumet students attending IU's Red Carpet Day.

The program was held on November 21 to allow students to become familiar with the university's programs.

Representatives from universities and colleges met with CHS'ers on November 13 at the school's annual College Day.

Booths housing displays from the 17 universities and three branches of the service were assembled in the girls gymnasium. Students moved from booth to booth, questioning representatives about their displays and literature.

Student Sponsors Annual Mardi Gras

Calumet High School's annual Mardi Gras took place on Thursday, February 26 in the girls gymnasium from 6:30 to 9:00 p.m.

A few of the varied activities which took place were the Human Relations' fortune telling, Student Council's cake walk, Pep Club's hullagan and chances on lollypops, Health Occupations' bingo wheel, Yearbook's bozo buckets and fish game, Girls Athletics' basketball throw, C-Teens' tire throw, Warriorettes' baseball toss, National Honor Society's pie throw, Biology Club's coinology, and the German Club's dart throw. # Brady dreams Of Montreal Summer Olympics

For many, Olympic competition is generally only a dream. For Rhonda Brady, junior, it is in the realm of possibility.

During the school year, Rhonda traveled to the Soviet Union to compete on the U.S. track team against formidable Russian competition.

The following interview was conducted with Rhonda. The junior related her grueling practice schedule and "feeling" of competition.

YEARBOOK: What is on your mind at the moment before the gun sounds?

RHONDA: When I'm down in the blocks, the only thing that is on my mind is getting out as fast as I can. I'm extremely nervous.

YEARBOOK: What is an average practice schedule for you.

RHONDA: I put in ten hours a week of practice. Then before a big meet I work two hours a day. I began running with Mayor Hatcher's Youth Foundation after junior high.

During a normal practice, I jog a few laps, do warm-ups and a stretching exercises for about 45 minutes. I follow that up with speed work.

YEARBOOK: Do you always feel that it is worth all the time and effort?

Lights, camera, action, the television media provided the background for the Warriorettes' 1976 Spring Concert. The pom pon squad did "take-offs" on the television programs and commercials in the fieldhouse on May 5, for students and parents.

The concert contained popular television shows such as "Swat," and "Mickey Mouse."

CHS'ers dressed in pink leotards and tiny pink ears, crept from behind large pictures of the legendary character panther which represented the television show "Pink Panther."

A class of noise, jokes and laughter, signified TV's "Welcome Back Kotter" which was portrayed by a number of CHS Warriorettes at their annual Spring Concert.

The concert was one of the Warriorettes last performances of the year, which was one of the reasons the young ladies smiled so proudly at the audience.

Accompanied by the song "The Way We Were," seniors Jeanette Harris, Kris Klodzen and Kathy Peters presented Miss Payne with a plaque of their gratification from the Class of '76. In addition to this, the girls also gave her 24 red and white roses signifying each Warriorettes' appreciation for a job well done.

Biology Club Sponsors 'Pie in the eye'

"One for the money," was the thought of most students that entered the Pie Eating Contest.

On March 25 the Biology Club of Calumet High School sponsored the annual contest. The contest took place in the fieldhouse under the direction of Mr. Chuck Cole.

Prizes were awarded to seniors Rick Kljajic and Mariam Spott first place. Freshman Rick Peterson and Lorretta Partain second place. Junior Gary Lindesmith and freshman Lynette Moore third place.

The winning contestants were first place, Bent, a band including seniors Brent Ewen and Jimi Cudzoil, sophomore Royce Cornelison and freshman Tony Knight. Senior Bettye Laney presented her version of the "Clean-Up Woman," which won her a second place prize of ten dollars. # Graduation

Red, white

And blue

On May 23 at 2 p.m. the class of '76 became graduates of Calumet High School. Graduates numbered 339.

Aside from the traditional red gowns for the boys and white gowns for the girls, there were blue gowns also. The blue gowns were worn by the Adult Education graduates.

The red, white and blue cleverly combined to give the commencement exercise the "Spirit of '76."

The class Valedictorian was Dan Jewell and Salutatorian was Susan Cervantes. Both honor students delivered speeches during the assembly.

I think I'll take this class, it sounds easy ... They suggested that I select this class if I want to go to college ... Or I could attend Gary Tech for a half day since I am scheduled for a work study program.

Ever spring CHS'ers fill out their class schedules and thus, plan one more year of their high school lives.

Although social functions may seem more exciting, academic life is the major aspect of high school.

A varied curriculum at CHS allowed students to pursue studies in college preparation, business, vocational and general areas.

The 2 p.m. dismissal bell, however, had to have been the climatic celebration of the day.

Celebrate!

Students Study Vocations

The construction of homes and office buildings proved to be the main concern for the beginning drafting classes.

The vocational students learned the technique needed to understand what and when to put where and why.

The metals students at Calumet High School, learned the basics, as well as the advanced functions, of a metal shop.

"The freshmen are back!" Since 1970, the freshmen have not been included in the high school, but this year they returned.

But the class of '79 had to go in search for a sponsor. Miss Johnnie McCray offered her assistance in the crusade. The need for a sponsor will also be a problem for next year's freshmen.

Also along with the addition of the freshmen came minor problems with daily class scheduling. Freshman began the year on an early shift.

But even with all the problems, Freshman managed to adjust to the high school environment.

Vary in '76

The school year was a busy one both in the class and out. The seniors took time out of class to choose a Christmas tree. As in past years, each class is given a hall to decorate.

With elections right around the corner, a man from the county took time out to show the students how to vote. Students were also allowed to go inside and try out the machine. Students were asked questions about the different political parties.

Anxious eyes watch the clock tick off the final seconds of the game ... red and white pom poms bounced in rhythm to the beat of a pep band drummer ... a voice chants 29, 32, 63 hike ... the quarterback scrambles seeking a receiver down field ... he spirals the pig skin into the arms of the intended gridman ... the CHS player tumbles into the end zone ... the fans cheer ... the gun sounds ... CHS captures a victory.

From the sparkling touchdowns of the rumbling gridiron ... to the astounding baskets of the tiny titans, it was sport ... and it was CHS.

Sports, an intricate part of CHS life, provided entertainment and student celebration in 1976.

Celebrate!

Drills payoff For harriers

Cross Country is a combination of long, hot summer days and strenuous training drills. Drills, which may sometimes consist of 10 to 12 miles of running and wind sprints, are required for top performance during the season.

Junior Alex Muro contributed heavily throughout the season to the harrier team. He cracked the old two and one-half mile standard at Calumet and turned in a record setting 12:30 performance. The harrier was also the individual champion of the Highland Invitational Meet held at Cressmore Park.

The Cross Country team highlighted the season by walking away with honors at the Highland Invitational Meet. The team also captured the number two spot in the Lake Suburban Conference (LSC) Meet. This proved to be quite an accomplishment because the CHS squad was not expected to place in LSC standings, indicated Coach Starkey.

CHS expands Gridiron staff

Changes in coaching positions were a part of the 1975 gridiron season. Because freshman from Lake and Ridge Junior highs were incorporated into the senior high school for the first time, a vacancy was created for a freshmen football coach.

Coach Ron Johnson accepted the duties of defensive line coach for the varsity squad. Junior varsity action was also handled by Coach Johnson.

Calumet gridders obtain New home turf in '75

After not playing on home turf for a year, the Warriors enthusiastically entered the '75 season anxious to utilize the newly constructed sports facilities.

A great amount of sweat was distributed on the field early in August as Head Coach Richard Trcka toned his Warriors for the long season.

A high spirited crowd of "Warriors" witnessed a homecoming victory on October 31. Twenty seconds remained as Kurt Towers snatched a fumble securing a sure upset over the Red Devils of Lowell.

Other important conference wins raised the morale of the Warriors even though injuries were substantial.

A tough gridder schedule containing three state ranked teams contributed to a disappointing 4-6 Warrior season.

Senior linebacker Wayne Robinson received the all-conference honors on the defensive squad.

Frosh play Both positions

In the day of specialization, especially in the establishment of gridiron duties, Calumet's JV players suffered the agony of being required to perform both offensive and defensive functions.

Reflecting on the season's problems plaguing the JV, Coach Ron Johnson indicated that the team lacked in size and were unable to establish a winning attitude. "An excellent attitude was the only thing that kept them going," concluded the coach.

Piloting the newly reorganized freshman, Mr. Rolland Beckham and Mr. Doug Starewicz, coaches, faced the problem of rebuilding a team from the newly combined freshmen.

Posting a 3-5-1 season, the frosh gridders managed to beat the odds on some occasions. The squad lost games, but kept the point spread close in contests that they were sometimes deemed as heavy underdogs.

Tennis "craze" hits Calumet

New CHS team finishes 5-5

Only a few years ago, Bobby Riggs and Billie Jean King helped established tennis as an American "craze". Due to this sport's popularity, new facilities were created at Calumet High School to promote tennis as a team sport.

Calumet's racketeers, in their first year of existence, posted a surprising 5-5 record for the season.

Commenting on a successful season, first year Head Coach Joe Starkey indicated that he had experienced only minor problems. But those team weaknesses dimmed the racketeer's prospects for a higher season record.

Coach Starkey noted, "the main weakness during the season, and possibly may affect the team in future years, was perhaps the lack of experience." However, the coach did indicate that a noticeable improvement occurred by the season's end.

Team captain and ace singles player, senior Mark Roscoe, was voted one of the outstanding tennis players in the Calumet Region. The captain, undefeated in team play, was only dealt a loss in the finals of the Lake Suburban Tournament.

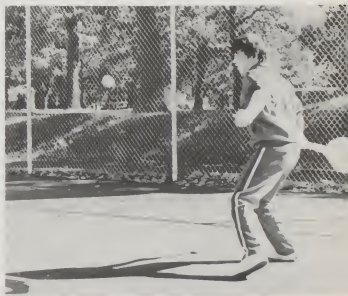

Senior Ingo Muller-Roden, a German exchange student, was Calumet's number two singles player. Junior Bob Koedyker and Randy Gilmore, sophomore, emerged as the team's number one doubles combination by the season's end.

'Breaks' prove Name of game

On the court getting the "brakes" is the name of the game. During the year Calumet's Warrior basketball squad experienced difficulty in incorporating the "brakes" in their team play. The right "break" at the right time may determine the outcome of any ball club. Calumet's inability to do so was perhaps one of the primary reasons for a disappointing 6-15 season.

For many years, Warrior Coach Carl Traicoff has cited his team as the smallest squad participating in the Calumet Region. However, this past season the CHS. coach was blessed with 6'3" "giant," Terry White, senior.

When presenting Terry with the Most Valuable Player award at the winter athletic banquet, Coach Traicoff indicated that the player was the best "big man" that the coach ever had the pleasure of instructing. Terry was the only squad member selected for Lake Suburban All-Conference honors. The senior was cited by many area newspapers in their All-Regional choices.

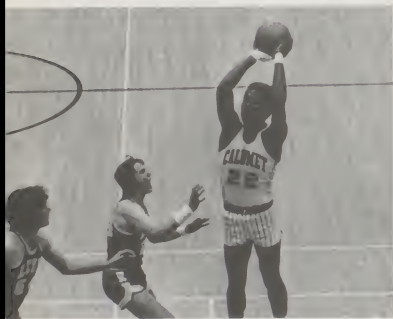

According to Coach Traicoff, the season play had its ups and downs. Throughout the season, the squad would enjoy a spurt of successful play, and then they would "cool off" and experience a slump.

The basketball coach cited a major weakness of the squad, their unimpressive 55 per cent free throw average. Coach Traicoff also said that the "team defense was not up to normal standards."

According to Coach Randy Harkabus, "Our defense was strong, but our inadequate size on the floor put the Warriors in a great rebounding disadvantage."

The JV ended the season 8-13.

Calumet's Freshman basketball team was "shooting" for two major objectives during the past school year. According to Mr. Joe Olis, freshman coach, the team worked on learning and mastering the basic fundamentals.

The other major objective was realizing the importance of team play, both on offense and defense.

Grapplers clinch Sectional victory

Starting only three senior grapplers throughout the season, Coach Rolland Beckham's Warriors appeared easy to beat. But "looks can be deceiving". "Although somewhat lacking in experience, the grapplers displayed a healthy competitive spirit during the season", commented assistant Coach Doug Starewicz.

Finishing the season 8-2, the team was led by Portage Tourney winner, junior Dan Finnerty and Semi-State qualifiers Al Eaton, senior, and Bob Kellemen, junior.

Clinching conference wins were juniors Rick Gilmore and Bob Kellemen. Bob, along with senior Al Eaton, continued the season by snatching a sectional championship and qualifying for regional competition.

JV makes it Ten in a row

Calumet's Junior Varsity wrestlers posted a winning season in 1976. Thus, giving the JV wrestlers a 10 year record of winning seasons. Coached by Mr. Doug Starewicz the JV team, which consisted of three sophomores, five juniors, and two seniors, finished with a 7-2-1 season.

Coach Starewicz credited freshman, Mark Towers as the most valuable grappler on the JV squad.

The novice freshmen, with intense coaching, came up with a winning season of 9-1 and also captured the Freshman Conference Tourney. Some frosh matmen gained experience "fast" by competing against varsity and JV squads from other schools during season meets.

Defeating three state ranked teams, the Warriors looked good until injuries set in. Ken Harper, Bob Johnson, Danny Joyner and Mark Loukowski were among the injured Warriors. Mark was rated number one in both conference and sectional in pole vaulting. "Injuries cost us the Conference Championship," commented Coach Sopko.

Injuries Plague Team

With sore arms, fractured bones and pulled muscles, Calumet High School's baseball team experienced a hazardous season. The Warriors had two or three starters out of the line-up in each game. Inexperienced substitutes hampered the team's strength in fielding and hitting.

During the year, the team's expectations were based primarily on underclassman pitching.

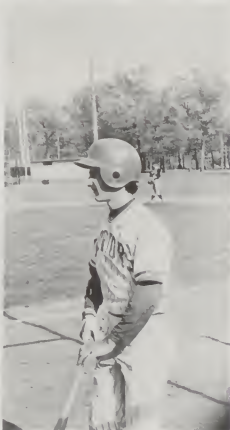

"They (pitchers) just did not pitch up to their full potential," indicated Varsity Coach Dick Trcka. "They looked 'sharpe' during the pre-season training, but did not come along as I had expected them to," concluded the coach.

The team finished the season 8-17.

This year's JV baseball team had a fine year of gaining valuable experience to prepare them for future years of varsity competition.

"Our major weakness would be the overall growth of the team," cited JV Head Coach Ron Johnson. "One-half of the team members were freshmen," added the coach.

The freshmen ended their season with a very respectable 5-5 mark.

Ending the season 5-9 proved a disappointment to coach Laura Baird's Warriors. Faltering throughout most of the season, the girls volleyball team did not play up to their expectations. The team played a roster of 15 different schools during the course of the season. The spikers also hosted the Lake Suburban Conference tourney in November.

At the end of the season, seniors Jan Ragsdale and Sharon Peek were selected for All-Conference honors.

Experiencing their first taste of volleyball competition, Calumet's team won seven games during the season. This established a new school record for JV volleyball. The prior record had been four wins in a season. The junior spikers finished the season with a respectable 7-8.

Two CHS'ers Named All-LSC

Reflecting on the main purpose of junior varsity play, Coach Laura Baird said that the JV helps prepare the player for varsity action. Coach Baird also added that until "we develop a program at the junior high, we have to work at the beginning of the year on fundamentals."

The coach indicated that during the season the team did a "very good job" defensively but only managed to clinch one victory out of twelve outings.

CHS wins First sectional Held in state

Women's sports flourished in 1976 and Calumet's Girls Varsity Basketball team cashed in by clenching the Hanover Sectional title.

The state of Indiana instituted local, regional and state competition for girls for the first time in '76. Calumet, eager to capture the first sectional, downed Lowell 38-30 in the final game.

Season play for the girls team was less impressive. According to Coach Robyn Payne, the loss of 6'1" forward Lisa Stillabower, due to injury, in the last three season encounters deminished the effectiveness of the team and reflected in the season record. The CHS team finished the season 9-8.

Two Calumet players were selected All-Conference at the close of the season. Lisa Stillabower, senior, was named All-Conference forward and Sharon Peek, senior, was selected All-Conference guard.

Three other team members were nominated for conference honors. They were seniors Sonya Heresz, Jan Ragsdale and Clara Seberger.

The varsity squad was defeated 39-31 in their regional competition against Hammond Gavit.

Tennis

New Sport

For CHS

Calumet developed its first girls tennis team in 1976. Building the team from scratch was Coach Mary Ann Nickoloff who commented, "This year was a year of learning the basics, building self-confidence and acquiring new skills."

The newly organized team finished the season fourth in conference, with sophomores Carol McGee and Chris Gora leading the team in singles. Roslinda White, Lisa Zimnawoda, Barbara Chakos and Diane Jurcik advanced Calumet in the sectional doubles competition. The team finished the season 1 and 5.

Organizations celebrate With balloons and booths

Step right up ... test your skill ... three shots at the hoop for only a quarter ... balloons for sale ... colors of the rainbow ... Mister, a balloon for your son? ... fortunes told here ... gaze into my cristal ball ... I see a tall dark stranger ... Hey Mr. Bo, you want a pie in the eye? ... Mardi Gras was a major activity for clubs and organizations during the school year at Calumet High School.

CHS organizations treasured the event, not only as a celebration of raising funds, but also as a festive activity.

Crowds gathered to test their luck at games. Kiddies, students, and adults, were suddenly very much a part of the high school celebration.

Newspaper staff suffers

As publication costs increase

Calumet High School's Newspaper staff had problems before the school season even began. Having no editor, Greg Wiesemann was selected for the job. Junior Karen Williams was chosen managing editor at mid-term.

The staff also had problems with the cost of the paper and the amount of people buying it. The staff began to sell patron ads and advertising the help decrease the cost of the paper.

The CHS News Bureau staff was kept busy by writing articles for the Gary "Post Tribune" and the "Hammond Times" throughout the year.

Editor-in-Chief for the first semester was Judy Hollifield. Phyllis Darwin took her post for the last half of the year.

Staff enjoys prosperous sales

A healthy budget helped to alleviate some of the tension for Calumet's yearbook staff in 1976. For the first time in many years, the staff was not plagued by poor advertising sales.

Another first for the staff included the handling of sales in a different manner. Subscribers were required to pay in full at the beginning of the school year. The staff managed to sell more than 100 books above last year's sales.

Distribution of the 1975 book was held in early fall. The staff sponsored a dance featuring the band, Midwest Fox.

Christmas color pictures were taken by Mr. Jim Spasoff, one cold evening in December. The Staff indicate their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. Ervin O'Neil for the use of their home in the Miller area.

CHS students Sport new styles In 1976

BELOW: The Afro hair-do is still in style, but it has taken on a new length and texture.
RIGHT: The rap-around skirts and dress T-shirt are another fashion craze. Senior Sandy Shingler also displays narrow heels, also coming back into fashion for young women.
FAR RIGHT: Mood rings were the latest fashion in jewelry. The color change indicated the mood of the wearer.

Mood rings popular With CHS students

Let me wear it ... If it turns black during third hour, I'll know it works ... I can't understand why mine is yellow all of the time.

CHS students adopted the "mood ring" or "sensitivity stone" as their major fashion craze in '76.

The stone was called an "Australian Crystal." Reportedly, a "secret ingredient" allowed the stone to change colors with the wearer's every emotion.

Businesses in the area had a difficult time keeping pace with the demand for the item.

Cards included with ring purchases defined the colors and the mood associated with them. Blue indicated relaxation. Yellow told of anxiety. Black indicated that the owner was depressed. And purple stood for passion.

Celebrate!

Staffs busy

In 1976

The responsibility of running CHS centers not upon one person, but upon many people.

First of all is the principal, Mr. Robert Joseph. Ready to aid him are the two assistant principals, Mr. Tom Manning and Mr. Peter Korkinda. Relating directly to the students is the dean of students, Mr. Rolland Beckham.

The job of food preparation and keeping the school clean falls upon the cafeteria and custodial staffs.

The basis for administrative decisions lies in the elected school board of trustees.

Staff helps School Efficiency

Just as the industry is the heart of the city, the office is the heart of the school.

The tasks of the office staff range from stamps on envelopes to major responsibilities like duplicating tests for teachers, and helping to keep the school records straight.

Aside from secretarial tasks, another important job circulates through the office. The task of medical care to the students. Whether sore throat, or minor cut, it all boils down to one lady, the school nurse. Just as death comes without a heartbeat, the school could not function without the office.

Frosh travel on cold days

From CHS to West Campus

Freshmen looked high and low for a sponsor during their first year at Calumet High School. Although the freshmen were unable to find a representative for their class, they were helped by Miss Johnnie McCray.

One of the accomplishments of the freshmen class was their first place in the East Gary Edison cheerleaders competition. They were judged on the basis of two cheers.

At the beginning of the school year, freshmen classes began school at 8:30 and ended the day at 3:10, one hour later than the other three classes. But difficulties existed and their schedules were soon changed to begin and end the same as other classes, 7:30 to 2:10.

Many freshmen throughout the day exchanged school buildings. West Campus housed some freshman classes. The building is a part of Calumet and Lake Ridge School board building.

Junior Class raises funds for prom

Fund raising is an intricate part of each school year at calumet High School. Juniors were especially interested in sponsoring activities to cover expenses for their Junior-Senior Prom.

This school year's junior fund raising activities included numerous car washes, bake sales, candy sales and a dance.

Juniors also participated in Career Day on March 5. They sat in on morning sessions which were instructed by representatives of approximately 45 occupations.

Three juniors served as class officers during the year. The members included Tammy Porter, president, Pam Ensweiler, secretary, and April Weeks, treasurer.

Waldron marks 24th year

The '76 Chieftain would not be complete without a special acknowledgement of the retirement of Mrs. Elsie Waldron.

Mrs. Waldron served on Calumet's faculty for 24 years. The English and French teacher, over the years, has been a sponsor of French Club, the junior class and Kalaidoscope, a literary organization.

Her retirement was especially significant to the yearbook because she once served as its adviser.

A dinner, sponsored by Lake Ridge Teachers Federation and the Lake Ridge Parents Teachers Council, was held in her honor on May 6. The dinner and dance was held at the Hellenic Cultural Center in Merrillville.

Chieftain ad Revenue and Subscription sales Increase in 1976

BELOW: Ecology minded citizens returned to home gardening in 1976. Most home furnishing magazines showed a preference for greenery indoors as well. RIGHT: Smoke stakes represent the steel industry, the major hub of commerce in Northwest Indiana. FAR RIGHT: "Fill'er up." Gasoline prices decreased in 1976, but promised to rise again in the summer months.

U.S. Government prints Two dollar bill

"Brother can you spare a dime?" ... A quarter? ... A dollar? ... A two dollar? ... Boy, that's as phoney as a two dollar bill. Would Jefferson shudder if he knew that he was the phoney on the two dollar bill? The two dollar bill has suffered the reputation of being termed "unlucky" in American history. The U.S. treasury, however, indicated in 1976 that printing the new denomination would hold down government costs. Thus, unlucky becomes lucky.

In a few years the United States plans to convert to the metric system of measurement. Since the two dollar bill does not fit in the "metric scheme of things," we ask you—Washington DC and Jefferson—Who is the real phoney?

Celebrate!

Hoosiers celebrate '76 With a presidential primary

Indiana's spring primary held some interesting surprises in 1976. Local residents celebrated '76 by casting their votes at the polls on May 4. Part of Calumet's fieldhouse served as a polling place for some township residents.

One name on the ballot was perhaps more familiar to CHS'ers than others. Adam Benjamin, brother of faculty member Myron Benjamin, won his bid for the Democratic nomination for U.S. Congress.

Indiana's Democrats nominated Jimmy Carter for the presidential post. Ronald Reagan edged out President Jerry Ford.

Students find 1976 Cause for Celebration

Celebrate!

Two CHS biology students, seniors Brian DeLaughter and Billy Watkins, end the day with a peaceful stroll through Brookfield Zoo. The field trip to the zoo was sponsored by Biology Club.

Confetti flying ... streamers floating ... horn tooting ... banners waving ... What is a Celebration?

The country's 200th anniversary in 1976 was an obvious celebration. Some Americans saw the bicentennial as a time for more vigorously waving the red, white and blue. Others celebrated by studying the past and concentrating on the problems of the present.

The yearbook celebration in '76 would not be complete, however, without acknowledging those individuals that made it possible.

Special thanks to Herff Jones Yearbook representative, Mr. George Kingsley, Jr. and to Mr. Jim Spasoff of Spasoff Studio for their assistance in the publication of this book.
